Note 3 - Use of judgements and estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

IPSAS 1.137

(a) Judgements

Judgements made in applying accounting policies that have had the most significant effects on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements include the following:

[LIST AND DETAIL ALL APPLICABLE SIGNIFICANT JUDGEMENTS, e.g.:

- Revenue recognition – non-exchange revenue (conditions vs. restrictions)
- Classification of lease arrangements
- Whether an arrangement contains a lease
- Whether a loan issued or received is a concessionary loan

- Whether there is joint control (or not) over an investee
- Whether a joint arrangement is a joint venture or a joint operation

[LIST AND DETAIL (INCLUDING THE NATURE AND CARRYING AMOUNT OF THE RELATED ITEM) ALL APPLICABLE SIGNIFICANT ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATIONS UNCERTAINTIES, e.g.]

(c) Changes in accounting estimates

[INSERT DETAILS OF MATERIAL CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES DURING THE PERIOD, example below]

During the period the Group's revised the remaining useful life of its laptop computers from five years to three years. The change in estimate will not have any cumulative impact on the depreciation recognised in surplus or deficit, rather it will accelerate the recognition of depreciation in surplus or deficit, as detailed in the schedule below (based on laptops recognised as at reporting date)[32]:

- 2020: $XXX decrease in depreciation
- 2020: $XXX decrease in depreciation
- 2020: $XXX decrease in depreciation
- 2020: $XXX decrease in depreciation
- 2021: $XXX decrease in depreciation.

[32] If the effect of the change in estimate on future period cannot be practicably estimated, this fact must be disclosed (refer PBE IPSAS 3.45).

IPSAS 3.33

(a) Changes due to the initial application of a new, revised, and amended PBE Standards (continued)

(i) Going Concern Disclosures (Amendments to PBE IPSAS 1)

During the period, an amendment to PBE IPSAS 1 in relation to going concern disclosures was adopted by the Group. The amendment introduced more specific disclosures about going concern assessments to provide more relevant and transparent information about the matters considered when making such assessments. This amendment has not had an impact on accounting policies of the Group. As the Group is a going concern with significant reserves, no further disclosures around the going concern assessment are considered to be required by the Trustees (AMEND AS APPROPRIATE).

Note 5 – Accounting standards issued not yet effective

IPSAS 3.35
IPSAS 3.36

The following are new, revised, or amended standards that are applicable to the Group which are in issue but are not yet required to be adopted for the year ended 31 December 2020:

(i) PBE IPSAS 40 PBE Combinations

PBE IPSAS 40 PBE Combinations is effective for annual periods commencing 1 January 2021 and will be adopted by the Groupon that date. PBE IPSAS 40 requires that a PBE combination be classified as either an amalgamation or an acquisition.

For amalgamations, the resulting entity recognises and measures in its financial statements the assets received, the liabilities assumed and any non-controlling interests and recognises and measures components of net assets/equity and other adjustments. The Group has no amalgamations planned for the foreseeable future.

For acquisitions, the Group would continue to apply its current business combination accounting policy of recognising and measuring the identifiable assets acquired, the liabilities assumed and any non-controlling interest in the acquired operation and the goodwill acquired in, or the gain or loss arising from the acquisition. The Group currently has no planned acquisitions. [AMEND AS APPROPRIATE]

(ii) PBE IPSAS 41 Financial Instruments

PBE IPSAS 41 Financial Instruments is effective for periods commencing 1 January 2022 and will be adopted by the Group on that date.

PBE IPSAS 41 introduces new recognition and measurement requirements for financial assets and restricts the ability to measure financial assets at amortised cost to only those assets that are s held within a management model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. In addition measurement of financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive revenue and expense is also restricted.

It is anticipated that PBE IPSAS 41 will thus have a material impact on the Group measurement and recognition of financial instruments, although the quantum thereof has yet to be quantified by the Group.

At a minimum it is anticipated that all currently classified available for sale financial assets will need to be reclassified to being at fair value through profit or loss. In addition, certain financial assets classified as loans and receivables will fail classification for measurement at amortised cost and will need to be reclassified to being measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The new expected credit loss impairment model is also expected to significantly increase the amount of impairment provisioning required, and will require new impairment models to be developed, which the Group is currently investigating. [AMEND AS APPROPRIATE]

(iii) PBE FRS 48 Service Performance Reporting

PBE FRS 48 Service Performance Reporting is effective for periods commencing 1 January 2022 and will be adopted by the Group on that date.

PBE FRS 48 requires specific disclosures for the reporting of service performance information. These requirements are currently being reviewed by the Trustees to determine what disclosures should be provided by the Group once the standard is adopted. [AMEND AS APPROPRIATE]

(iv) [DISCLOSE THE FOLLOWING FOR EACH NEW, REVISED, AMENDED STANDARD NOT YET ADOPTED]:

- The title of the PBE Standard
- The nature of the new, revised, or amended standard
- The date of mandatory adoption
- The date that the entity plans to adopt the new, revised, or amended standard
- Details of the likely impact on the financial statements (or if not known or unreasonably determinable, a statement to that effect)

Note 6 - Prior period error [NOTE THAT THIS IS A HYPOTHETICAL EXAMPLE FOR ILLUSTRATIVE PURPOSES ONLY]

IPSAS 3.54(a)

During the current period it was noted by the Director's that the revaluation of one of items of land and buildings that had been performed for the year ended 31 December 2015 had used several incorrect estimates, and resulted in an over valuation of $XXX,XXX. As such, the depreciation expense and resulting accumulated depreciation were overstated in the 2017, 2018, and 2019 financial periods.

The error was corrected for current year results but the below table summarises the changes made to the statement of financial position, statement of changes in net assets/equity, and statement of comprehensive revenue and expense for the restated comparatives to correct this error[33]:

PBE Standard

IPSAS 1.132(c)

Discontinued operations - accounting policy

A discontinued operation is a component of the Group, being one whose operations and cash flows are clearly distinguishable from the rest of the group, that has either been disposed of or held for sale, and which:

- Represents a separate major line of business or geographic area of operations
- Is part of a single coordinated plan to dispose of a separate major line of business or geographic area of operations, or
- Is a controlled entity acquired exclusively with a view to re-sale.

Classification as a discontinued operation occurs at the earlier of disposal or when the operation meets the criteria to be classified as held-for-sale.

When an operation is classified as a discontinued operation, the comparative statement of comprehensive revenue and expense is re-presented as if the operation had been discontinued from the start of the comparative year.

PBE Standard IPSAS 1.132(c)

Revenue - accounting policy

Revenue is recognised when the amount of revenue can be measure reliably and it is probable that economic benefits will flow to the Group, and measured at the fair value of consideration received or receivable.

The following specific recognition criteria in relation to the Group's revenue streams must also be met before revenue is recognised.

i. Revenue from exchange transactions

Membership fees and subscriptions

Revenue is recognised over the period of the membership or subscription (usually 12 months). Amounts received in advance for memberships or subscriptions relating to future periods are recognised as a liability until such time that period covering the membership or subscription occurs.

Sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods in the course of ordinary activities is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of returns, trade discounts and volume rebates.

IPSAS 9.39(a) Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer, IPSAS 9.39(a) recovery of the consideration is probable, the associated costs and possible return of goods can be estimated reliably, there is no continuing management involvement with the goods, and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably.

If it is probable that discounts will be granted and the amount can be measured reliably, then the discount is recognised as a reduction of revenue as the sales are recognised.

IPSAS 9.39(a) The timing of the transfers of risks and rewards varies depending on the individual terms of the sales agreement. [INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS RELATING TO THE ENTITY'S OPERATIONS[39]. e.g.]

- For sales of [ITEM(S) #1], transfer occurs when the product is received at the customer's warehouse
- For sales of [ITEM(S) #2] transfer occurs when the product is dispatched from the Group entity's warehouse
- For sales of [ITEM(S) #3] that occur on the Group entity's premises, transfer occurs at the point of sale.

Rendering of services

IPSAS 9.39(a) [DESCRIBE THE DIFFERENT SERVICES THAT THE ENTITY RECEIVES REVENUE FOR]

Revenue from services rendered is recognised in surplus or deficit in proportion to the stage-of-completion of the transaction at the reporting date. The stage of completion is assessed by reference to [INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS RELATING TO THE ENTITY'S OPERATIONS[40]. e.g.]:

- A survey of work performed at reporting date for [SERVICE(S) #1]
- Proportion of time remaining under the original service agreement at reporting date for [SERVICE(S) #2].

Amounts received in advance for services to be provided in future periods are recognised as a liability until such time as the service is provided.

Rental income on investment property

IPSAS 9.39(a) Rental income from investment property is recognised in surplus or deficit on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives granted are recognised as an integral part of the total rental income, over the term of the lease.

ii. Revenue from non-exchange transactions

IPSAS 23.107(a) Non-exchange transactions are those where the Group receives an inflow of resources ((i.e. cash and other tangible or intangible items) but provides no (or nominal) direct consideration in return.

With the exception of services-in-kind, inflows of resources from non-exchange transactions are only recognised as assets where both:

- It is probable that the associated future economic benefit or service potential will flow to the entity, and [39] Each entity will need to provide specific details relating to the transfer of risks and rewards to its specific operations and goods sold, considering the differing terms-of-trade that may exist between different items sold, as well as between the same items sold.

[40] Each entity will need to provide specific details of how stage-of-completion is assessed for each different service it provides.

PBE Standard

- Fair value is reliably measurable.

IPSAS 1.132(c)

Inflows of resources from non-exchange transactions that are recognised as assets are recognised as non-exchange revenue, to the extent that a liability is not recognised in respect to the same inflow.

Liabilities are recognised in relation to inflows of resources from non-exchange transactions when there is a resulting present obligation as a result of the non-exchange transactions, where both:

- It is probable that an outflow of resources embodying future economic benefit or service potential will be required to settle the obligation, and
- The amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated.

ii. Revenue from non-exchange transactions

Grants, Donations, Legacies and bequests

IPSAS 23.107(a)

The recognition of non-exchange revenue from g*rants*, d*onations*, l*egacies and bequests* depends on the nature of any stipulations attached to the inflow of resources received, and whether this creates a liability (i.e. present obligation) rather than the recognition of revenue.

Stipulations that are 'conditions' specifically require the Group to return the inflow of resources received if they are not utilised in the way stipulated, resulting in the recognition of a non-exchange liability that is subsequently recognised as non-exchange revenue as and when the 'conditions' are satisfied.

Stipulations that are 'restrictions' do not specifically require the Group to return the inflow of resources received if they are not utilised in the way stipulated, and therefore do not result in the recognition of a non-exchange liability, which results in the immediate recognition of non-exchange revenue.

Concessionary loans received – day-one fair value difference

IPSAS 23.107(a)

In accordance with Note 36 regarding the initial measurement of financial liabilities, concessionary loans are initially measured at fair value in accordance with the market effective interest rate.

Any difference between the fair value and transaction price of the concessionary loan at initial recognition is accounted based on the existence and nature of any stipulations attached to loan (refer above):

- Conditional stipulations: A non-exchange liability is recognised, subsequently recognised as non-exchange revenue as and when the 'conditions' are satisfied.
- Restrictive stipulations: Immediate recognition of non-exchange revenue.

Debt forgiveness

IPSAS 23.107(a)

In accordance with Note 36 regarding the derecognition of financial liabilities, non-exchange revenue relating to debt forgiveness is recognised at the point at which the contractual obligations for repayment of the debt are discharged, cancelled, or expire.

Finance income and finance costs - accounting policy

Finance income comprises [interest income on financial assets, gains on the disposal of available-for-sale financial assets, fair value gains on financial assets at fair value through surplus or deficit, and gains on the remeasurement to fair value of any pre-existing interest in an acquiree]. Interest income is recognised as it accrues in surplus or deficit, using the effective interest method.

Finance costs comprise [interest expense on financial liabilities, unwinding of the discount on provisions, losses on disposal of available-for-sale financial assets, fair value losses on financial assets at fair value through surplus or deficit, impairment losses recognised on financial assets, and fair value adjustments on concessionary loans issued].

Borrowing costs are expensed in the period they are incurred [50].

Foreign currency gains and losses are reported on a net basis as either finance income or finance cost depending on whether the foreign currency movements are in a net gain or net loss position.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the respective functional currencies of Group entities at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are retranslated to the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. The foreign currency gain or loss on monetary items is the difference between amortised cost in the functional currency at the beginning of the year, adjusted for effective interest and payments during the year, and the amortised cost in foreign currency translated at the exchange rate at the end of the year.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value are retranslated to the functional currency at the exchange rate at the date that the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items in a foreign currency that are measured based on historical costs are translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Foreign currency differences arising on retranslation are recognised in surplus or deficit, except for the following differences which are recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense arising on the retranslation of available-for-sale equity investments (except on impairment in which case foreign currency differences that have been recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense are reclassified to surplus or deficit).

An entity is able to elect to adopt the Allowed Alternative treatment whereby borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of the qualifying asset's initial cost.

Inventory - accounting policy

Inventory is initially measured at cost, except items acquired through non-exchange transactions which are instead measured at fair value as their deemed cost at initial recognition.

Inventories are subsequently measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of inventories is based on [INSERT DETAILS, e.g. the first-in first-out principle, weighted average cost] and includes expenditure incurred in acquiring the inventories, production or conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition.

In the case of manufactured inventories and work in progress, cost includes an appropriate share of production overheads based on normal operating capacity.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

The cost of [BIOLOGICAL ASSET, e.g. standing timber] transferred from biological assets is its fair value less costs to sell at the date of harvest.

(i) Leased property, plant and equipment

IPSAS 13.40(a) The Group has entered into a number of finance leases for items of property, plant and equipment. The carrying amounts of leased items within the various classes of property, plant and equipment include:

- $XXX thousand of [plant and equipment] (2019: $YYY thousand)
- $XXX thousand of [motor vehicles] (2019: $YYY thousand)
- $XXX thousand of [computer equipment] (2019: $YYY thousand)

IPSAS 13.40(f) INCLUDE DETAILS OF THE FOLLOWING REGARDING MATERIAL LEASING ARRANGEMENTS:

(iii) Security held over items of property plant and equipment

IPSAS 17.89(a) At reporting date, certain land, buildings, with a carrying amount of $XXX thousand (2019: $YYY thousand) and certain plant and machinery with a carrying amount of $XXX (2019: $YYY) are subject to a first mortgage to secure bank loans (see Note 31).

(v) Revalued land and buildings

IPSAS 17.92(a)-(b) Land and buildings were revalued as at [31 December 2020] using an independent valuer.

IPSAS 17.92(c) In estimating the fair value of land and buildings, the [INSERT METHOD] method was used, which incorporated the use of the following significant assumptions:

IPSAS 17.92(d) The [INSERT METHOD] method [does/does not] make significant use of observable prices in active markets and recent market transactions on arm's length basis.

(vi) Heritage assets[63]

IPSAS 17.94.1(a) The Group holds a [DESCRIBE HERITAGE ASSET – e.g. monument, historical building] as a heritage asset as it is held for its [cultural/environmental/historical] significance as opposed to its ability to generate future economic benefit. In the opinion of the Trustees it is not possible to reliably measure this heritage asset for PBE Standard purposes. It is therefore not recognised in the statement of financial position.

IPSAS 17.94.1(b) The estimated value of the [HERITAGE ASSET] is $XXX thousand (2019: $YYY thousand), which is based on [an insurance valuation as at reporting date].

Property, plant and equipment - accounting policy

i. Recognition and measurement

Items of property plant and equipment are initially measured at cost, except those acquired through non-exchange transactions which are instead measured at fair value as their deemed cost at initial recognition.

Heritage assets with no future economic benefit or service potential other than their heritage value are not recognised in the statement of financial position.

Items of property, plant and equipment are subsequently measured either under the:

- Cost model: Cost (or fair value for items acquired through non-exchange transactions) less accumulated depreciation and impairment.
- Revaluation model: fair value, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses recognised after the date of the most recent revaluation.

  Valuations are performed with sufficient frequency to ensure that the fair value of a revalued asset does not differ materially from its carrying amount.

  IPSAS 1.132(c)

  Gains and losses on revaluation are recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense and presented in the revaluation surplus reserve within net assets/equity. Gains or losses relating to individual items are offset against those from other items in the same class of property, plant and equipment, however gains or losses between classes of property, plant and equipment are not offset.

  Any revaluation losses in excess of credit balance of the revaluation surplus for that class of property, plant and equipment are recognised in surplus or loss as an impairment.

All of the Group's items of property plant and equipment are subsequently measured in accordance with the cost model, except for land and buildings which are subsequently measured in accordance with the revaluation model.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed assets [and bearer plants] includes the following:

- The cost of materials and direct labour
- Costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to a working condition for their intended use
- When the Group has an obligation to remove the asset or restore the site, an estimate of the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located, and
- [Capitalised borrowing costs[50]].

Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalised as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment (calculated as the difference between the net proceeds from disposal and the carrying amount of the item) is recognised in surplus or deficit.

Upon disposal of revalued items of property, plant and equipment, any associated gain or losses on revaluation to that item are transferred from the revaluation surplus to accumulated surplus.

PBE Standard

ii. Reclassification to investment property

When the use of a property changes from owner-occupied to investment property, the property is remeasured to fair value and reclassified as investment property.

Any gain arising on remeasurement is recognised in surplus or deficit to the extent that it reverses a previous impairment loss on the specific property, with any remaining gain recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense and presented in the revaluation reserve in net assets/equity. Any loss is recognised immediately in surplus or deficit.

iii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group. Ongoing repairs and maintenance is expensed as incurred.

IPSAS 17.88(b)

iv. Depreciation

For plant and equipment, depreciation is based on the cost of an asset less its residual value, and for buildings is based on the revalued amount less its residual value. Significant components of individual assets that have a useful life that is different from the remainder of those assets, those components are depreciated separately.

Depreciation is recognised in surplus or deficit on a [straight-line/diminishing value] basis over the estimated useful lives of each component of an item of property, plant and equipment. Leased assets are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives unless it is reasonably certain that the Group will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term. Land is not depreciated. Assets under construction are not subject to depreciation.

IPSAS 17.88(c)

The [estimated useful lives/diminishing value depreciation rates] are:

- Buildings X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- Plant and machinery X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- Motor vehicles X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- Fixtures and fittings X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- Computer equipment X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- [Bearer plants X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)]

Depreciation methods, useful lives, and residual values are reviewed at reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

IPSAS 26.123(c)(iii) The cash flow projections used in determining value-in-use include:

- Forecast period of specific cash flows for years 1 – 5, based on expectations of future outcomes taking into account past experience and anticipated future growth.
- Terminal period for growth in years beyond year 5, adjusting for any one-off events included in the forecast period.

IPSAS 26.123(c)(i) The table below details the significant key assumptions used by management in determining the CGU's value in use:

		2020	2019
IPSAS 26.123(c)(v)	Discount rate (WACC)	X.X%	Y.Y%

- Market cost of debt XX% (2019: YY%)
- Market cost of net assets/equity XX% (2019: YY%)

IPSAS 26.123(c)(ii) The long-term growth rate was determined based on the expected steady growth rate applicable to the sectors and industries to which the [NAME OF CGU #1] CGU operates within.

[75] Note that PBE IPSAS 26.38-42 provides a hierarchy upon which fair value less cost to sell is determined, with a binding sales agreement being at the top. However, if other methods were used to determine fair value less cost to sell then significantly different disclosures would be required (in particular if a discounted cash flows method was used – refer to PBE IPSAS 26.123(d) and (e)).
[76] Note, that these disclosures are required by PBE IPSAS 26.120(d) only if there has been a material impairment loss recognised in respect of the CGU (which in this case there hasn't), however it is best practice to include them in all instances.
[77] Common examples include (but are not limited to): Revenue/EBITDA/EBIT growth rate, and/or one-off costs (i.e. restructuring, restoration etc.) during the forecast period for years 1 – 5.

Intangible assets - accounting policy

i. Recognition and measurement

Intangible assets are initially measured at cost, except for:

- Intangible assets acquired through non-exchange transactions (measured at fair value), and
- Goodwill (measured in accordance with business combination accounting - refer Note 40)).

All of the Group's intangible assets are subsequently measured in accordance with the cost model[78], being cost (or fair value for items acquired through non-exchange transactions) less accumulated amortisation and impairment, except for the following items which are not amortised and instead tested for impairment:

- Goodwill
- Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, or not yet available for use.

The Group has no intangible assets with indefinite useful lives.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed intangible assets includes the following:

IPSAS 31.117(a)
IPSAS 31.121(a)

- The cost of materials and direct labour
- Costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to a working condition for their intended use, and
- [Capitalised borrowing costs[50]].

ii. Research and development

Expenditure on research activities, undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding, is recognised in surplus or deficit as incurred.

Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes. Development expenditure is capitalised only if development costs can be measured reliably, the product or process is technically and commercially feasible, future economic benefits are probable, and the Group intends to and has sufficient resources to complete development and to use or sell the asset. The expenditure capitalised includes the cost of materials, direct labour, overhead costs that are directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use, and capitalised borrowing costs. Other development expenditure is recognised in surplus or deficit as incurred.

iii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenditure, including expenditure on internally generated goodwill and brands, is recognised in surplus or deficit as incurred.

[78] Note that if the entity uses the revaluation model for any classes of intangible assets then this will need to be incorporated into the wording of the accounting policy.

iv. Amortisation

Amortisation is recognised in surplus or deficit on a [straight-line/diminishing value] basis over the estimated useful lives of each amortisable intangible asset.

IPSAS 31.117(a)
IPSAS 31.121(b)

The [estimated useful lives/diminishing value amortisation rates] are:

- Software X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- Development X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)
- Trademarks and patents X years / Y% (2019: X years / Y%)

Amortisation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

(i) Change in fair value

IPSAS 16.86(e)

The fair value of investment properties were determined at reporting date by external, independent, qualified property valuers with recent experience in the location and category of the investment properties being valued.

IPSAS 16.89

There were no investment properties where, due to fair value not being reliably determinable, the cost model was applied.

(ii) Methods and assumptions applied in determining fair value

- Capitalisation rates, occupancy/vacancy rates, average lease terms, and/or discount rates etc.
- Whether fair value was determined more on market evidence, or other factors (and if so, what factors).

[79] Note that in this example the entity has applied the fair value model to ALL of its investment properties, in accordance with PBE IPSAS 16.39. If the entity had elected to adopt the cost model certain alternative disclosures are required – namely a reconciliation of the opening and closing carrying values, similar in presentation to the reconciliation in Note 20 for Property, Plant and Equipment (refer PBE IPSAS 16.90).

[80] If a NFP public benefit entity has published general purpose prospective financial statements, it must present a comparison of the prospective financial statements with the historical financial statements being reported either on the face of the financial statements, as a separate statement or in the notes. Explanations for major variances must be given. (PBE IPSAS 1.21(e) and PBE IPSAS 1.148.1).

[81] The entity has separately presented exchange and non-exchange (i.e. donated assets) additions. However, there is no specific requirement to disaggregate these in PBE Standards.

(iii) Adjustments to fair value determined by independent valuers

IPSAS 16.88

The Group recognised lease incentives separately in the statement of financial position as 'Capitalised leased incentives' within 'Prepayments and other assets', however such amounts are incorporated into the fair values determined by the independent valuers. Therefore, in order to avoid double-counting, the carrying amount of capitalised lease incentives is deducted from these fair values in order to determine the fair value increase/(decrease) of investment properties. This is illustrated in the table below:

	Note	2020	2019

Investment property - accounting policy

Investment property is property held either to earn rental income or for capital appreciation or for both, but not for sale in the ordinary course of business, use in the production or supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes.

i. Recognition and measurement

Investment property is initially measured at cost, except those acquired through non-exchange transactions which are instead measured at fair value as their deemed cost at initial recognition.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the investment property. The cost of self-constructed investment property includes the cost of materials and direct labour, any other costs directly attributable to bringing the investment property to a working condition for their intended use [and capitalised borrowing costs[50]].

Investment properties are subsequently measured at fair value[82].

Any gain or loss on disposal of an investment property (calculated as the difference between the net proceeds from disposal and the carrying amount of the item) is recognised in surplus or deficit.

IPSAS 16.85(a)

ii. Reclassifications

When an investment property that was previously classified as property, plant and equipment is sold, any related amount included in the revaluation reserve is transferred to retained earnings.

When the use of an investment property changes to owner occupied, such that it results in a reclassification to property, plant and equipment, the property's fair value at the date of reclassification becomes its cost for subsequent accounting.

For a transfer from inventories to investment property, any difference between the fair value of the property at that date and its previous carrying amount is recognised in surplus or deficit.

iii. Derecognition

Investment properties are derecognised either when they have been disposed of or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and future economic benefit or service potential is expected from its disposal.

Any gains or losses on the retirement or disposal of an investment property are recognised in surplus or deficit in the year of retirement or disposal.

[82] Note that in this example the entity has applied the fair value model to ALL of its investment properties, in accordance with PBE IPSAS 16.39. If the entity had elected to adopt the cost model an alternative accounting policy would be required.

Biological assets - accounting policy

Biological assets are initially measured at cost, except those acquired through non-exchange transactions which are instead measured at fair value as their deemed cost at initial recognition. [Bearer plants are accounted for as items of property, plant and equipment.]

Biological assets are subsequently measured at fair value less costs to sell, with any change therein recognised in surplus or deficit. Costs to sell include all costs that would be necessary to sell the assets, including transportation costs.

Biological assets transferred to inventory are done so at fair value less estimated costs to sell at the date of harvest.

[88] Sub-classes may exist in terms of assets at different stages of maturity, e.g. R1 heifers, R2 heifers, R1 steers/bulls, R2 steers, mixed aged cows, breeding bulls. In 2019 management determined that the Group had significant influence over [ASSOCIATE #2] even though it held less than 20% of the voting rights because [the Group held substantive share options that were then currently exercisable which would have resulted in the Group holding 30% of the voting rights]. [ASSOCIATE #2] is a privately owned company registered in [COUNTRY #2]. The Group disposed of its interest in [ASSOCIATE #2] during the period.

(iii) [ASSOCIATE #3]

IPSAS 38.14

In 2020 and 2019 management determined that the Group had only significant influence, and not control, over [ASSOCIATE #3] even though it held more than half of the voting rights, this was due to [the Group only being contractually able to appoint two out of the five members of the Board of Directors, who make decisions over the operating and financing activities of [ASSOCIATE #3], where a majority is required]. [ASSOCIATE #3] provides the Group with access to specialist project management knowledge and is considered to be a strategic investment in relation to the Group's activities..

IPSAS 38.36

The Group is not contractually liable for any share of losses reported by [ASSOCIATE #3]. During 2020 the Group's share of unrecognised losses amounted to $XXX (2019: $YYY), the Group's historical cumulative share of unrecognised losses as at reporting date amounted to $XXX (2019: $YYY).

(iv) [INVESTMENT X]

IPSAS 38.14

The Group holds a 22% interest in [INVESTMENT X] (2019: 22%), however management have determined that it does not have significant influence over [INVESTMENT X] even though it held more than 20% of the voting rights, this was due to [another party holding substantive share options that are (were) currently exercisable which would have resulted in the Group holding only 15% of the voting rights]. The Group's interest in [INVESTMENT X] is accounted for as an available-for-sale financial asset per Note 19.

Associates - accounting policy

Associates are those entities in which the Group has significant influence, but not control, over the financial and operating policies. Significant influence is presumed to exist when the Group holds between 20% and 50% of the voting power of another entity. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method and are recognised initially at cost, including directly attributable transaction costs.

The consolidated financial statements include the Group's share of the surplus or deficit and other comprehensive revenue and expense of its equity accounted associates and joint ventures, after adjustments to align the accounting policies with those of the Group, from the date that significant influence or joint control commences until the date that significant influence or joint control ceases.

When the Group's share of losses exceeds its interest in its equity accounted associates and joint ventures, the carrying amount of the investment, including any long-term investments that form part thereof, is reduced to zero, and the recognition of further losses is discontinued except to the extent that the Group has an obligation or has made payments on behalf of the investee.

There were no capital or other commitments relating to interests in joint ventures to which the Group was jointly and/or severally liable (2019: nil) [AMEND WHERE NECESSARY].

Joint arrangements - accounting policy

The Group is a party to a joint arrangement when there is a contractual arrangement that confers joint control over the relevant activities of the arrangement to the group and at least one other party. Joint control is assessed under the same principles as control over subsidiaries.
The Group classifies its interests in joint arrangements as either:

- Joint ventures: where the group has rights to only the net assets of the joint arrangement
- Joint operations: where the group has both the rights to assets and obligations for the liabilities of the joint arrangement.

In assessing the classification of interests in joint arrangements, the Group considers:

- The structure of the joint arrangement
- The legal form of joint arrangements structured through a separate vehicle
- The contractual terms of the joint arrangement agreement
- Any other facts and circumstances (including any other contractual arrangements).

The Group accounts for its interests in joint ventures in the same manner as investments in associates (i.e. using the equity method – refer above).

Any premium paid for an investment in a joint venture above the fair value of the Group's share of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities acquired is capitalised and included in the carrying amount of the investment in joint venture. Where there is objective evidence that the investment in a joint venture has been impaired the carrying amount of the investment is tested for impairment in the same way as other non-financial assets.

The Group accounts for its interests joint operations by recognising its share of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses in accordance with its contractually conferred rights and obligations. In accordance with PBE IPSAS 37 Joint Arrangements, the Group is required to apply all of the principles of PBE IFRS 3 Business Combinations when it acquires an interest in a joint operation that constitutes a business as defined by PBE IFRS 3.

Judgement
For all joint arrangements structured in separate vehicles the Group must assess the substance of the joint arrangement in determining whether it is classified as a joint venture or joint operation. This assessment requires the Group to consider whether it has rights to the joint arrangement's net assets (in which case it is classified as a joint venture), or rights to and obligations for specific assets, liabilities, expenses, and revenues (in which case it is classified as a joint operation). Factors the group must consider include:

- Structure
- Legal form
- Contractual agreement
- Other facts and circumstances.

Upon consideration of these factors, the Group has determined that all of its joint arrangements structured through separate vehicles give it rights to the net assets and are therefore classified as joint ventures.

Note 26 - Concessionary loans issued

PBE Standard

IPSAS 30.37(c) During the 2019 reporting period the Group issued a loan to an external third party, at terms and interest rates that were below market for what would have been provided for a similar loan with a similar counterparty.

The purpose of the loan was to [INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS, e.g. to facilitate the external third party in constructing a new premises in order for it to carry out its own charitable operations].

The loan was issued with the following terms [INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS]:
- Loan principal: $XXX thousand
- Contractual interest rate: X.X%
- Maturity: X years
- Repayment schedule: interest paid annual in arrears, principal payable at maturity

IPSAS 30.37(d) In determining the day-one fair value of the concessionary loan issued, a market effective interest rate of X.X% was used to discount all contractual cash flows of principal and interest payments back to present value. The market interest rate used was the rate that would have been obtained in the market for a loan with identical terms and counterparty risks.

Non-current assets held for sale or distribution - accounting policy

Non-current assets, or disposal groups comprising assets and liabilities, that are expected to be recovered primarily through sale or distribution rather than through continuing use, are classified as held for sale or distribution.

Immediately before classification as held for sale or distribution, the assets, or components of a disposal group, are remeasured in accordance with the Group's accounting policies. Thereafter generally the assets, or disposal group, are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less cost to sell.

The criteria for held for sale classification is regarded as met only when the sale is highly probable and the asset is available for immediate distribution in its present condition. Management must be committed to the sale or distribution and expect it to be completed within one year from the date of classification.

Any impairment loss on a disposal group is first allocated to goodwill, and then to remaining assets and liabilities on pro rata basis, except that no loss is allocated to inventories, financial assets, investment property or biological assets, which continue to be measured in accordance with the Group's accounting policies.

Impairment losses on initial classification as held for sale or distribution and subsequent gains or losses on remeasurement are recognised in surplus or deficit. Gains are not recognised in excess of any cumulative impairment loss.

Once classified as held for sale or distribution, intangible assets and property, plant and equipment are no longer amortised or depreciated, and any equity-accounted investee is no longer equity accounted.

Employee benefits - accounting policy

i. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefit liabilities are recognised when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation to remunerate employees for services provided and that are expected to be settled wholly before 12 months after the reporting date. Short-term employee benefits are measured on an undiscounted basis and expensed in the period in which employment services are provided.

ii. Long-term employee benefits

Long-term employee benefit obligations are recognised when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation to remunerate employees for services provided beyond 12 months of reporting date. Long-term employee benefit obligations are measured [INSERT DETAILS e.g. using the projected unit credit method, with any actuarial gains or losses recognised in surplus or deficit].

iii. Defined contribution plans

Defined contribution plans are post-employment benefit plans under which an entity pays fixed contributions into a separate entity and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further amounts. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution pension plans are recognised as an employee benefit expense in surplus or deficit in the periods during which services are rendered by employees. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset (prepayment) to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available. Contributions to a defined contribution plan that are due more than 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the service are discounted to their present value.

iv. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are recognised as an expense when the Group is committed demonstrably, without realistic possibility of withdrawal, to a formal detailed plan to either terminate employment before the normal retirement date, or to provide termination benefits as a result of an offer made to encourage voluntary redundancy. Termination benefits for voluntary redundancies are recognised as an expense if the Group has made an offer of voluntary redundancy, it is probable that the offer will be accepted, and the number of acceptances can be estimated reliably. If benefits are payable more than 12 months after the reporting date, then they are discounted to their present value.

[91] If a NFP public benefit entity has published general purpose prospective financial statements, it must present a comparison of the prospective financial statements with the historical financial statements being reported either on the face of the financial statements, as a separate statement or in the notes. Explanations for major variances must be given. (PBE IPSAS 1.21(e) and PBE IPSAS 1.148.1).

(i) Security held

IPSAS 30.10 At reporting date, [INSERT APPLICABLE LOAN SUB-CLASSES] were secured by first mortgage over certain items of property, plant and equipment (see Note 21).

(ii) Defaults and beaches at reporting date and during the reporting period

IPSAS 30.22(a) During the reporting period, the Group defaulted on [a/several] payment(s) of principal and/or interest in respect of [LOAN SUB-CLASS #1] and [LOAN SUB-CLASS #2].

IPSAS 30.22(b) IPSAS 30.22(c) At reporting date, [LOAN SUB-CLASS #2] ($XXX thousand) was still in default and unresolved[93]. Subsequent to reporting date, the default was remedied with no change to the original terms of the loan[94].

IPSAS 30.23, 22(a) In addition, during the reporting period the Group failed to meet a bank covenant in respect to [LOAN SUB-CLASS #3], which required [INSERT DETAILS OF THE COVENANT, e.g. 'DEBT TO NET ASSETS/EQUITY RATIO', 'TIMES INTEREST RATIO' ETC.].

IPSAS 30.23, 22(b) IPSAS 30.23, 22(c) At reporting date, the breach on bank covenant in respect of [LOAN SUB-CLASS #3] ($XXX thousand) was still unresolved[97]. Subsequent to reporting date, the breach of bank covenant remains to be remedied.

(iii) Loan forgiveness

During the period, the counter party to [LOAN SUB-CLASS #1] unconditionally forgave the remaining principal left outstanding (refer Note 8).

[92] There is a general disclosure requirement (PBE IPSAS 30.10) to provide information that enables users of the financial statements to evaluate the significance of financial instruments on its financial position and performance. In order to comply with this, this entity has chosen to disaggregated 'Loans' into various sub-classes (e.g. Secured loans, Unsecured loans, Convertible notes etc.), and then further by currency. In addition, the entity has chosen to disclose details such as interest rate ranges, and maturity date ranges. The level of disclosure required to comply with PBE IPSAS 30.10 will need to be determined on a case-by-case basis, considering materiality and the usefulness to the users.

[93] In this example it is assumed that as per the terms of loan agreement the existence of the breach results in the Group no longer having the unconditional right to defer payment of the loan for at least 12 months from reporting date, and therefore the entire outstanding amount is presented as current (Refer to PBE IPSAS 1.80(d)).

[94] Note, that if the terms of the loans were renegotiated, as well as disclosing this fact, the entity would be required to apply PBE IPSAS 29.AG79 to determine whether the renegotiated terms were 'substantially different' and therefore require derecognition of the original loan and recognition of a new loan.

IPSAS 13.40(e) There are no future minimum future lease payments that are expected to be recovered through non-cancellable sub-leases [AMEND WHERE NECESSARY].

Finance leases - accounting policy

Leases in terms of which the Group assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases.

Upon initial recognition the leased asset is measured at an amount equal to the lower of its fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the asset is accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to that asset.

[95] There is a general disclosure requirement (PBE IPSAS 30.10) to provide information that enables users of the financial statements to evaluate the significance of financial instruments on its financial position and performance. In order to comply with this, this entity has chosen to disaggregated 'Finance leases payable' by currency. In addition, the entity has chosen to disclose details such as interest rate ranges, and maturity date ranges. The level of disclosure required to comply with PBE IPSAS 30.10 will need to be determined on a case-by-case basis, considering materiality and the usefulness to the users.
For example, in some cases, it may be determined that a narrative format is more appropriate than the tabular format presented.

[96] If a NFP public benefit entity has published general purpose prospective financial statements, it must present a comparison of the prospective financial statements with the historical financial statements being reported either on the face of the financial statements, as a separate statement or in the notes. The total future non-cancellable minimum sub-lease payments at reporting date are $XXX thousand (2019: $XXX thousand).

IPSAS 13.69(c) Refer to Note 22 for details of material operating lease arrangements relating to the Group's investment properties.

Operating leases - accounting policy

Leases that are not finance leases are classified as operating leases.

Operating leases are not recognised in the Group's statement of financial position. Payments made under operating leases are recognised in surplus or deficit on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives received are recognised as an integral part of the total lease expense, over the term of the lease.

PBE Standard

Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At the inception of an arrangement the Group determines whether the arrangement is or contains a lease. This will be the case if the following two criteria are met:

- The fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific assets or assets, and
- The arrangement contains a right to use the asset(s).

At inception or on reassessment of the arrangement, the Group separates payments and other consideration required by such an arrangement into those for the lease and those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values. If the Group concludes for a finance lease that it is impracticable to separate the payments reliably, then an asset and a liability are recognised at an amount equal to fair value of the underlying asset. Subsequently the liability is reduced as payments are made and an imputed finance cost on the liability is recognised using the Group's incremental borrowing rate.

Provisions - Accounting policy

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation.

Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as a finance cost within surplus or deficit.

[INSERT DETAILS OF SPECIFIC PROVISIONS RECOGNISED BY THE ENTITY, common examples below]

i. Warranties

A provision for warranties is recognised when the underlying products or services are sold. The provision is based on historical warranty data and a weighting of all possible outcomes against their associated probabilities.

ii. Restructuring

A provision for restructuring is recognised when the Group has approved a detailed and formal restructuring plan, and the restructuring either has commenced or has been announced publicly. Future operating losses are not provided for.

iii. Site restoration

In accordance with the Group's published environmental policy and applicable legal requirements, a provision for site restoration in respect of contaminated land, and the related expense, is recognised when the land is contaminated.

iv. Onerous contracts

A provision for onerous contracts is recognised when the expected benefits to be derived by the Group from a contract are lower than the unavoidable cost of meeting its obligations under the contract. The provision is measured at the present value of the lower of the expected cost of terminating the contract and the expected net cost of continuing with the contract. Before a provision is established, the Group recognises any impairment loss on the assets associated with that contract.

(i) Concessionary loan liability

IPSAS 23.109

The Group has received a loan from [INSERT GRANTOR] to construct [dental clinics] at each of the Group's five sites, terms include:

- Total amount advanced of $XXX thousand
- Includes a non-refundable portion $XXX thousand per dental clinic (refundable to grantor if dental clinic is not completed)
- Contractual interest rate of 5%
- A market effective interest rate of 10% and maturity of 20X1 (note 32).

A concessionary loan liability has been recognised in respect of the Group's obligation to construct the five dental clinics, being equal to the aggregate of:

- The total non-refundable portion, and
- The day-one fair value difference between:
  - The total amount advanced (less the total non-refundable portion), and
  - The present value of the total amount advanced (less the total non-refundable portion) discounted, at the market effective interest rate of 10%.

Non-exchange revenue is recognised in relation to this balance at the point in time as each dental clinic is completed. A reconciliation of the concessionary loan liability is detailed below:

IPSAS 23.109

Deferred non-exchange revenue relates to grants, donations, legacies and bequests received to which there are stipulated conditions attached. Non-exchange revenue in relation to this balance is recognised at the point-in-time as each stipulated condition is satisfied.

Contributed [share] capital - accounting policy

[INSERT DETAILS OF SPECIFIC CONTRIBUTED [SHARE] CAPITAL RECOGNISED BY THE ENTITY, common examples below]

i. Ordinary shares

Ordinary shares are classified as net assets/equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares and share options are recognised as a deduction from net assets/equity.

ii. Treasury shares

When share capital recognised as net assets is repurchased, the amount of the consideration paid, which includes directly attributable costs is recognised as a deduction from net assets.

Repurchased shares are classified as treasury shares (that are not immediately cancelled) and are presented in the reserve for own shares. When treasury shares are sold or reissued subsequently, the amount received is recognised as an increase in net assets and the resulting surplus or deficit on the transaction is presented in share capital.

iii. Foreign operations

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations, including goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on acquisition, are translated to New Zealand Dollars at exchange rates at the reporting date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated to New Zealand Dollars at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions.

Foreign currency differences are recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense and presented in the foreign currency translation reserve (translation reserve) in net assets/equity. However, if the foreign operation is a non-wholly-owned controlled entity, then the relevant proportion of the translation difference is allocated to the Non-controlling interests.

When a foreign operation is disposed of, such that control, significant influence, or joint control is lost, the cumulative amount in the translation reserve related to that foreign operation is reclassified to surplus or deficit as part of the gain or loss on disposal. When the Group disposes of only part of its interest in a controlled entity that includes a foreign operation while retaining control, the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is reattributed to Non-controlling interests. When the Group disposes of only part of its investment in an associate or jointly-controlled-entity that includes a foreign operation while retaining significant influence or joint control, the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is reclassified to surplus or deficit.

When the settlement of a monetary item receivable from or payable to a foreign operation is neither planned nor likely in the foreseeable future, foreign exchange gains and losses arising from such a monetary item are considered to form part of a net investment in a foreign operation and are recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense, and are presented in the foreign currency translation reserve in net assets/equity.

(ii) Fair values

IPSAS 30.32 The fair value hierarchy (presented in the tables above) disaggregates fair value into the following three levels:

- Level 1: Quoted unadjusted prices in active markets for identical instruments
- Level 2: Inputs that are not level 1 that are observable either directly or indirectly
- Level 3: Inputs that are not observable.

Fair value determination for level 2 and level 3 financial instruments disclosed above are as follows:

IPSAS 30.31 (a) Derivative financial instruments

[INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS, e.g.] Fair values are based on broker quotes as at reporting date, and are tested for reasonableness against the discounted cash flows of estimated future cash flows (based on the contract terms and maturity, and using a market interest rate for a similar instrument at measurement date). Where appropriate, the credit risk of the Group (derivative liabilities) and counterparty (derivative assets) are included.

Interest rate ranges used in the discounted cash flow analysis were X.X% - X.X% (2019: Y.Y% - Y.Y%).

IPSAS 30.31 (b) Debt securities (private, non-listed), Concessionary loans issued, Loans, Finance leases payable [INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS, e.g.] Fair values are determined by discounted cash flows of estimated future cash flows (based on the contract terms and maturity, and using a market interest rate for a similar instrument at measurement date). Where appropriate, the credit risk of the Group is included.

IPSAS 30.31 (c) Equity securities (private, non-listed)

[INSERT SPECIFIC DETAILS, e.g.] Fair values are determined by discounted cash flows of estimated future cash flows (based on the expected cash flows and a risk-adjusted discount rate that incorporate a probability weighting of a rage of possible outcomes).

IPSAS 30.33(e) Key inputs and assumptions used in the valuation included:

- Discount rate: Based on the risk-free rate (based on government 10 year bonds), and adjusted for a market risk premium (for investing in securities), and any other systematic risk or entity specific risks not reflected in the cash flows.
- Forecasted EBITDA: Based on management's specific forecast estimations over the subsequent 5 years, including estimates of annual revenue growth and the EBITDA margin.

A reasonably possible change in these key inputs, holding all other inputs constant, would have the following impact.

Financial instruments - accounting policy

IPSAS 1.132(c)

IPSAS 30.25 The Group initially recognises financial instruments when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred. Any interest in transferred financial assets that is created or retained by the Group is recognised as a separate asset or liability.

The Group derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged, cancelled, or expire. The Group also derecognises financial assets and financial liabilities when there has been significant changes to the terms and/or the amount of contractual payments to be received/paid.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Group has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Group classifies financial assets into the following categories: [fair value through surplus or deficit, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, and available-for-sale].

The Group classifies financial liabilities into the following categories: [fair value through surplus or deficit, and amortised cost].

Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value, [plus for those financial instruments not subsequently measured at fair value through surplus or deficit], directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent measurement is dependent on the classification of the financial instrument, and is specifically detailed in the accounting policies below.

The fair value of financial instruments that are traded in active markets at each reporting date is determined by reference to quoted market prices, without any deduction for transaction costs. In the absence of an active market, the fair value of financial instruments is measured using valuation techniques with the objective of estimating what the transaction price would have been on the measurement date in an arm's length exchange motivated by normal operating considerations.

i. Fair value through surplus or deficit

A financial instrument is classified as fair value through surplus or deficit if it is:

- Held-for-trading: This includes derivatives where hedge accounting is not applied.
- Designated at initial recognition: If the Group manages such investments and makes purchase and sale decisions based on their fair value in accordance with the Group's documented risk management or investment strategy.

Those fair value through surplus or deficit instruments sub-classified as held-for-trading comprise [INSERT LINE ITEMS, e.g. forward exchange contracts and interest rate swaps etc.]. Those fair value through surplus or deficit instruments sub-classified as designated at initial recognition comprise [INSERT LINE ITEMS].

Financial instruments classified as fair value through surplus or deficit are subsequently measured at fair value with gains or losses being recognised in surplus or deficit.

ii. Held-to-maturity

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities are classified as held-to-maturity when the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold them to maturity

Held-to-maturity financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses (refer Note 4(h)).

Held-to-maturity financial assets comprise [INSERT LINE ITEMS, e.g. debentures, government bonds etc.].

iii. Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

Loans and receivables are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses (refer Note 4(h)).

IPSAS 2.57

Loans and receivables comprise [INSERT LINE ITEMS, e.g. cash and cash equivalents, receivables, and monetary recoverables, and concessionary loans issued etc.].

Cash and cash equivalents represent highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into a known amount of cash with an insignificant risk of changes in value, with maturities of 3 months or less.

Concessionary loans issued are loans issued to third parties at rates and/or terms below market. Any difference between fair value and transaction price of the concessionary loan at initial recognition is recognised as a finance cost in surplus or deficit.

PBE Standard
IPSAS 1.132(c)

Financial instruments - accounting policy (continued)

iv. Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available-for-sale or are not classified in any of the above categories of financial assets.

Available-for-sale financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value with gains or losses (other than foreign exchange gains or losses) recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense and presented in the AFS fair value reserve within net assets/equity, less impairment (refer Note 4(h)).

Upon derecognition, the accumulated gain or loss within net assets/equity is reclassified to surplus or deficit.

Available-for-sale financial assets comprise [INSERT LINE ITEMS, e.g. equity securities, debt securities etc.].

iv. Amortised cost financial liabilities

Financial liabilities classified as amortised cost are non-derivative financial liabilities that are not classified as fair value through surplus or deficit financial liabilities.

Financial liabilities classified as amortised cost are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities classified as amortised cost comprise [INSERT LINE ITEMS, e.g. cash and cash equivalents (bank overdrafts), payables, loans, finance lease payable etc.].

Impairment of non-derivative financial assets

A financial asset [not subsequently measured at fair value through surplus or deficit] is assessed at each reporting date to determine whether there is objective evidence that it is impaired. A financial asset is impaired if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the asset, and that the loss event(s) had an impact on the estimated future cash flows of that asset that can be estimated reliably.

Objective evidence that financial assets are impaired includes default or delinquency by a counterparty, restructuring of an amount due to the Group on terms that the Group would not consider otherwise, indications that a counterparty or issuer will enter bankruptcy, adverse changes in the payment status of borrowers or issuers in the Group, economic conditions that correlate with defaults or the disappearance of an active market for a security. In addition, for an equity security classified as an available-for-sale financial asset, a significant or prolonged decline in its fair value below its cost is objective evidence of impairment.

i. Financial assets classified as held-to-maturity and loans and receivables

The Group considers evidence of impairment for financial assets measured at amortised cost (loans and receivables and held-to-maturity) at both a specific asset and collective level.

All individually significant assets are assessed for specific impairment. Those found not to be specifically impaired are then collectively assessed for any impairment that has been incurred but not yet identified.

Assets that are not individually significant are collectively assessed for impairment by grouping together assets with similar risk characteristics.

In assessing collective impairment the Group uses historical trends of the probability of default, the timing of recoveries and the amount of loss incurred, adjusted for management's judgement as to whether current economic and credit conditions are such that the actual losses are likely to be greater or less than suggested by historical trends.

An impairment loss in respect of a financial asset measured at amortised cost is calculated as the difference between its carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate. Losses are recognised in surplus or deficit and reflected in an allowance account against loans and receivables or held-to-maturity financial assets. Interest on the impaired asset continues to be recognised.

When an event occurring after the impairment was recognised causes the amount of impairment loss to decrease, the decrease in impairment loss is reversed through surplus or deficit.

Individual trade receivables that are known to be uncollectible are written off when identified, along with associated allowances. Loans, together with associated allowances are written off when there is no realistic prospect of future recovery and all collateral has been realised or has been transferred to the Group.

PBE Standard
IPSAS 1.132(c)

ii. Financial assets classified as available-for-sale

Impairment losses on available-for-sale financial assets are recognised by reclassifying the losses accumulated in the fair value reserve in net assets/equity to surplus or deficit.

In the case of equity investments classified as available-for-sale, objective evidence would include a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of the investment below its cost. 'Significant' is evaluated against the original cost of the investment and 'prolonged' against the period in which the fair value has been below its original cost.

In the case of debt instruments classified as available-for-sale, the impairment is assessed based on the same criteria as financial assets at amortised cost. However, the amount recorded for impairment is the cumulative loss measured as the difference between the amortised cost and the current fair value, less any impairment loss on that investment previously recognised in surplus or deficit.

The cumulative loss that is reclassified from the fair value reserve in net assets/equity to surplus or deficit is the difference between the acquisition cost, net of any principal repayment and amortisation, and the current fair value, less any impairment loss recognised previously in surplus or deficit.

Changes in impairment provisions attributable to application of the effective interest method are reflected as a component of interest income. If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of an impaired available-for-sale debt security increases and the increase can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, then the impairment loss is reversed, with the amount of the reversal recognised in surplus or deficit. However, any subsequent recovery in the fair value of an impaired available-for-sale equity security is recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense.

The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced by the specific individual characteristics of each counter party within the different sub-class of receivables presented in Note 16.

In respect to trade receivables from exchange transactions, the Group enforces a maximum amount of purchases that can be bought on credit ($XXX thousand) as a way to mitigate its exposure to individual debtors. Terms of trade require payment 30 days from the date of invoice. Customers that wish to transact at levels above the maximum credit limit must apply in writing to the [GROUP'S GOVERNING BODY] and have at least XX years of good trading history with the Group and/or individually satisfy the Group's internal creditworthiness requirements, including credit ratings and bank references.

In respect to Advances to related parties that are key management personnel, the Group enforces a maximum amount of draw down being a XX% of the employee's salary, capped to a maximum of $XXX thousand, as a way to mitigate its exposure to individual debtors. The [GROUP'S GOVERNING BODY] must approve all amounts advanced and drawn down to related parties, and may require additional information to be provided, such as credit ratings and bank references. All amounts are advanced with a pre-agreed payment schedule not exceeding 120 days which are deducted automatically from the key management personnel's salary. In respect to all other Advances to related parties, the [GROUP'S GOVERNING BODY] must approve all amounts advanced and drawn down to related parties, and may require additional information to be provided, such as credit ratings and bank references, be provided. [110] The Group also has Sundry receivables presented in Note 15 - Receivables - exchange transactions, however no credit risk information is presented here as it is assumed Sundry receivables are immaterial. If this is not the case, disclosure will be required.
[111] Presentation of exposure to credit risk requires judgement and consideration of entity specific circumstances. Here, it is presumed that both balances of Advances to related parties cannot be broken down any further - this may not be the case in all instances.
[112] Note that if amounts were outstanding and/or impaired disclosures similar to those presented for Receivables (from exchange transactions) would be required.

(iii) Liquidity risk

IPSAS 30.40

Liquidity risk arises from the Group's management of working capital and the finance charges and principal repayments on its debt instruments. It is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting its financial obligations as they fall due.

INSERT DETAILS OF THE ENTITY'S SPECIFIC EXPOSURE AND MANAGEMENT OF LIQUIDITY RISK, e.g.

IPSAS 30.46(c)

The Group ensures that maturity profile of its short-term liquid financial assets (such as cash and cash equivalents, and trade receivables) is sufficient to meet the contractual cash flow obligations of its financial liabilities.

IPSAS 2.61(a)

The Group also enters into interest rate and forward foreign exchange contracts to economically hedge its cash outflows that are exposed to interest rates and/or foreign currencies.

The group also ensures that it has available lines of credit with sufficient amounts undrawn:

(iv) Market risk

IPSAS 30.40

Market risk arises from the Group's use of financial instruments that are interest bearing, denominated in foreign currencies, and/or traded in public markets. Specifically, market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in interest rates (interest rate risk), foreign exchange rates (currency risk) or other market factors (other price risk).

Interest rate risk

Fixed interest rates attached to the Group's loans represent its greatest exposure to interest rate risk. The group manages this risk by entering into fixed-for-floating fixed interest rate swaps for XX% of each individual loan balance.

IPSAS 1.132(c)

Basis of consolidation - accounting policy

i. Controlled entities

Controlled entities are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an investee if all three of the following elements are present: power over the investee, exposure to variable returns from the investee, and the ability of the investor to use its power to affect those variable returns. Control is reassessed whenever facts and circumstances indicate that there may be a change in any of these elements of control. The financial statements of the Group's controlled entities are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

Subsequent changes in a controlled entity that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as transactions with controllers of the controlling entity in their capacity as controllers, within net assets/equity.

ii. Loss of control of a controlled entity

On the loss of control, the Group derecognises the assets and liabilities of the controlled entity, any Non-controlling interest, and the other components of net assets/equity related to the controlled entity. Any surplus or deficit arising on the loss of control is recognised in surplus or deficit.

If the Group retains any interest in the previously controlled entity, then such interest is measured at fair value at the date that control is lost. Subsequently, the retained interest is either accounted for as an equity-accounted associated or an available-for-sale financial asset depending on the level of influence retained.

[115] Note that different disclosures are required when the entity is presenting separate financial statements as a result of applying the exemption afforded per PBE IPSAS 6.16 from preparing consolidated financial statements (refer to PBE IPSAS 6.63).

iii. Non-controlling interests

Non-controlling interests are measured either at, on a business combination by business combination basis, their proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets, or fair value.

Non-controlling interests are allocated their share of net surplus or deficit after tax in the consolidated statement of comprehensive revenue and expense and are presented within equity in the consolidated statement of financial position separately from equity attributable to owners of the controlling entity.

iv. Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealised income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Unrealised gains arising from transactions with equity accounted investees are eliminated against the investment to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee. Unrealised losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

v. Loss of significant influence or joint control

Upon loss of significant influence of an associate, or joint control over the joint venture, the Group measures and recognises any remaining investment at its fair value, and accounts for the remaining investment at fair value in accordance with PBE IPSAS 29 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture upon loss of significant influence or joint control and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognised in surplus or deficit.

Business combinations - accounting policy

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method as at the acquisition date, which is the date on which control is transferred to the Group.

The Group controls an entity when it has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. In assessing control, the Group takes into consideration potential voting rights that are currently exercisable.

The Group measures goodwill at the acquisition date as:

The aggregate of:

- The fair value of consideration transferred
- The recognised amount of any Non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and
- The fair value of any pre-existing equity interest in the acquiree.

Less:

- The fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed.

Any gain on bargain purchase gain is recognised immediately in surplus or deficit.

The consideration transferred does not include amounts related to the settlement of pre-existing relationships. Such amounts are generally recognised in surplus or deficit.

Transactions costs related to a business combination incurred by the Group, other than those associated with the issue of debt or equity securities, are expensed in surplus or deficit as incurred.

Any contingent consideration payable is measured at fair value at the acquisition date. If the contingent consideration is classified as equity, then it is not subsequently remeasured and settlement is accounted for within net assets/equity. Otherwise, subsequent changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration are recognised in surplus or deficit.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, any previously held equity interest is remeasured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognised in surplus or deficit. It is then considered in the determination of goodwill.

IPSAS 1.132(c)

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Group's non-financial assets, other than biological assets, investment property, and inventories are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

Goodwill, indefinite life intangible assets, and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested annually for impairment. An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or its related cash-generating unit (CGU) exceeds its estimated recoverable amount.

The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in us, the estimated future cash flows (for cash-generating assets) or future remaining service potential (for non-cash-generating assets)[131] are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or CGU.

IPSAS 26.114
IPSAS 21.72A

Cash-generating assets and non-cash generating assets are distinguished by [INSERT CRITERIA].

For the purpose of impairment testing, assets that cannot be tested individually are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs. CGUs to which goodwill has been allocated are aggregated so that the level at which impairment testing is performed reflects the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal reporting purposes. Goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to groups of CGUs that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination.

Impairment losses are recognised in surplus or deficit. Impairment losses recognised in respect of CGUs are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU (group of CGUs), and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets in the CGU (group of CGUs) on a pro rata basis.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed. For other assets, an impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

[130] Disclosure of accounting policies required by PBE IPSAS 1.21(f)
[131] Note that PBE IPSAS 21 paragraphs 44 – 49 detail specific methods for determining value-in-use for non-cash-generating assets. An entity with material impairments relating to non-cash-generating assets should include additional narrative disclosing the method used and details of that method.

(b) Presentation of a third statement of financial position (at the date of transition)

A Tier 1 entity may elect to prepare an opening statement of financial position as at the date of transition to PBE Standards (i.e. as at 1 January 2015) (refer PBE FRS 46.14). This may be presented either as:
- (i) An additional column in the primary financial statements, or
- (ii) A note to the financial statements.

If the entity does not present a third statement of financial position, then the disclosure required by (c) below are still required.

(c) Explanation to the transition to PBE Standards

PBE FRS-46 includes mandatory and voluntary transition exemptions that are available upon transition to PBE Standards, with specific guidance for those entities transitioning from NZ IFRS[132]. The illustrative disclosure below presents the required disclosure in a tabular format.

PLEASE NOTE: PBE FRS 46 is revoked for reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2021, thus 30 December 2020 year ends are the last reporting period where PBE FRS 46 may be applied.[133]

FRS 46.22 Note (a) - Previously, the Group's policy in respect to non-exchange bequests was to recognise revenue only upon the physical receipt of cash (or other assets). Upon transition to PBE Standards, the Group's accounting policy is to recognise non-exchange revenue when it is probable that the future economic benefits will flow to the entity. The adjustment above relates to unconditioned bequests where the amount and timing of payment was confirmed in writing prior to transition, but where physical payment was received after transition.

FRS 46.37(a) Note (b) - Previously, the Group applied the NZ IFRS exemption to measure biological assets at cost. Upon transition to PBE Standards, the Group's accounting policy is that biological assets are required to be measured at fair value. The adjustment above relates to the remeasurement of biological assets as at 31 December 2014 to fair value.

FRS 46.22 Note (c) - Previously, the Group's accounting policy was to account for the satisfaction of a conditional obligation within a concessionary loan as a reduction in the loan balance on a straight-line basis as the conditional obligation was being satisfied. Upon transition to PBE Standards, the Group's accounting policy is that conditional concessionary loan obligations are recognised as a separate liability from the concessionary loan balance, and recognised as non-exchange revenue only at the point-in-time at which each condition is satisfied. The adjustment above relates to the establishment of a separate concessionary loan liability and adjusting the non-exchange revenue recognition profile to a point-in-time basis rather than straight-line.

FRS 46.22 Note (d) - Previously, the Group deferred revenue for all donations, grants, bequests and legacies received where there were stipulations as to how the funds were anticipated to be used, until such time that the stipulations were satisfied. Upon transition to PBE Standards, the Group's accounting policy is that only conditional stipulations (rather than restrictive stipulations) are able to be deferred in this way. The adjustment above relates to the recognition of revenue from donations, grants, bequests and legacies with restrictive stipulations.

[134] Note the appendix does not address all possible transition adjustments that may arise on adoption of PBE Standards - simply for illustrative purposes.

APPENDIX B
FIRST TIME ADOPTER APPLYING PBE FRS 47

(Financial statements previously prepared under another non-NZ IFRS financial reporting framework (including special purpose financial reporting))

(a) Disclosure in first set of PBE Standards financial statements

(b) Presentation of a third statement of financial position (at the date of transition)

An entity must prepare an opening statement of financial position as at the date of transition to PBE Standards (i.e. as at 1 January 2019). This may be presented either as:

(i) An additional column in the primary financial statements, or

(ii) A note to the financial statements.

In practice, many entities elect to follow option (ii) and combine this with the reconciliation required by PBE FRS 47.30(a) - section (c) below.

(c) Explanation to the transition to PBE standards[135]

An entity must present a number of reconciliations in accordance with PBE FRS 47.30 in order to explain the transition to PBE Standards:

- Net assets/equity: at the date of transition, and at the end of the latest period that the entity reported in accordance with previous GAAP
- Total comprehensive revenue and expense: at the end of the latest period that the entity reported in accordance with previous GAAP
- Cash flows: at the end of the latest period that the entity reported in accordance with previous GAAP (not shown here).[136]

The reconciliations for net assets/equity, total comprehensive revenue and expense, and accompanying narrative notes to the reconciliations are illustrated below.

[135] Refer to PBE FRS-47.29.

[136] Note, such a reconciliation would rarely be required, as many PBE's have not historically been required to present a statement of cash flows. If however a PBE has previously presented a statement of cash flows, it is expected that any adjustments upon transition would be minimal, and potentially only arise in relation to (i) re-categorising interest and dividend cash flows (ii) differences in the items in the statement of financial position that meet the definition of cash and cash equivalents.

(iii) Notes to reconciliations

FRS 47.37 Note (a)

- The Group has elected to use fair value as deemed cost for property, plant and equipment upon transition, resulting in a $XXX thousand increase in the carrying amount as at 1 January 2019.
- Subsequently, the Group has elected to measure the land and buildings class using the revaluation model, rather than at cost as was the accounting policy previously. This has resulting in a $XXX thousand revaluation increase in the revaluation surplus within net assets/equity, recognised in other comprehensive revenue and expense during the period to 31 December 2019.
- Due to the above increases in carrying value, the comparative amount of depreciation expense within other expenses has increased by $XXX thousand for the period to 31 December 2019.
